

Practical questions on the use of GFMER website

Raqibat Olabopo Idris

Geneva Foundation for Medical Education and Research

1. How can I find the course modules and course files?

- a. Click on SRH course 2011 on the GFMER home page. You will find a sitemap of the course website, including the course modules. Click on the required module to view the course files. You will also find references, relevant online documents and resources for the course. Click on whichever is applicable.
- b. Click on Training Course in Sexual and Reproductive Health Research 2011 - What's new? on SRH course 2011. All published course files are included in this list according to dates. They are also available clicking on Geneva Foundation for Medical Education and Research - What's new on the GFMER home page. In this page you will find a list of the new published files of the Foundation.
- c. Click on Training Course in Sexual and Reproductive Health Research 2011 - List of files in alphabetical order on SRH course 2011. You will find a list of all files of the course.

2. How do I find presentations with audio?

- a. Follow Step 1a. Click on Presentations with audio. Click on the relevant audio presentation.
- b. Follow Step 1b to link the individual courses or go to course file. You will find presentation with audio if there is one for the required course. Click on it.

3. How can I find assignments?

- a. Not all courses have assignments. For those that have, the assignments are written on the page linking to the PDF version of the courses.
- b. Follow Step 1a. Click on Assignments to get to the page with links to all available assignments for the entire course. Click on the one that applies.

4. Are there FAQ on assignments?

Yes. Assignments FAQ is accessible from SRH course 2011 and from Assignments.

5. Published assignments?

- a. Click on Training Course in Sexual and Reproductive Health Research 2011 - What's new? on SRH course 2011. Go through the lists of files by date to find any published assignment presented by participants.

- b. Published assignments are also available from Assignments and from pages linking to PDF presentations with assignments under Assignment presented by the participants.

6. Link to other participants?

Click on List of participants on SRH course 2011.

7. Databases, links?

Here, you get links to free medical journals, medical schools, dictionaries, search engines, medical images, guidelines and free full text articles. On the home page, find Databases, links tab on top of the page or on the list of site contents, click on it.

8. Any other question?

Search the Foundation website making use of the Google search engine on each page or click on Search tab on top of the home page or on the list of site contents.