

Acknowledgements

A big thank you to everyone who has contributed to the development of this course:

Jules Allfrey (John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK)
Natalie Atere-Roberts (John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK)
Sarah-Jane Bailey (John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK)
Joyee Basu (John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK)
Zulfiqar Bhutta (Aga Khan University Hospital, Karachi, Pakistan)
Heather Bower (School of Midwifery, Oxford Brookes University, UK)
Ethel Burns (School of Midwifery, Oxford Brookes University, UK)
Carlos Carrasco (Guy's and St. Thomas' Hospitals, London, UK)
Jide Fadare (Department of Obstetrics & Gynaecology, University of Ibadan, Nigeria)
Bukola Fawole (Department of Obstetrics & Gynaecology, University of Ibadan, Nigeria)
Shalini Fusey (Government Medical College, Nagpur, India)
Giunti labs
Bernardo Hernandez (Instituto Nacional de Salud Pública, Cuernavaca, Mexico)
Arancha de la Horra (Nuffield Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology(NDOG), University of Oxford, UK)
Sunetra Inamdar (Datta Meghe Institute of Medical Sciences University, India)
Andrew Karlyn (Population Council)
Brenda Kelly (NDOG, University of Oxford, UK)
Stephen Kennedy (NDOG, University of Oxford, UK)
Shona Kirtley (John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK)
Ana Langer (Engender Health)
Mansukh Popat (John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK)
Prof C. Redman (NDOG, University of Oxford, UK)
Sam Soltanifar (John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK)
Prof Michael de Swiet (University College London Hospitals, UK)
Lourdes Tellez (Instituto Nacional de Salud Pública, Cuernavaca, Mexico)
Jose Villar (NDOG, University of Oxford, UK)
Dilys Walker (Instituto Nacional de Salud Pública, Cuernavaca, Mexico)
Howell Williams (John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK)
Stephen Williams (John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK)